About This Game

Bio Inc.: Redemption is a complex biomedical simulator in which you make life or death decisions. Create the ultimate illness to torment your victim or play as the head of a medical team and hopefully find a cure to save your patient.

Including over 600 actual diseases, symptoms, diagnostic tests, treatments and other medical conditions, Bio Inc.: Redemption is frighteningly realistic. It will captivate you for hours, bringing you into a microscopic world of epic proportions!

As the sequel to the worldwide mobile hit Bio Inc. (enjoyed by over 15 million players), Bio Inc.: Redemption was rebuilt from the ground up to make it the most realistic and visually stunning medical condition simulator available.

CHOOSE YOUR SIDE

Bio Inc.: Redemption includes two all-new campaigns!

Choose Death and explore your dark side by wrathfully terminating victims using an agonizing combination of diseases and medical conditions.

Choose Life and you heroically play as a medical diagnostician to identify and cure diseases before it is too late for your patient.

Each campaign consists of nine cases with four different difficulty levels and the new adaptive AI system provides hours of gameplay with great replay value.

BUILDING DEEP STRATEGIES

The mechanics of Bio Inc.: Redemption are simple to grasp yet extremely deep. Casual players will appreciate a quick and exciting challenge. Advanced players will have to elaborate complex strategies to solve high difficulty cases. It's all about combos and timing!

18 DIVERSIFIED CHALLENGING CASES

Each case comes with its unique twists and specific objectives, gradually building your skills and expanding your toolset to evermore demanding intricate scenarios.

UNFORGIVING, WICKED AND STRANGELY COMPELLING

Whether you wish to cure an innocent patient's sickness or torment a poor soul through an unlikely disease combination, the Bio Inc. universe will not leave you cold. Deviously realistic, even educational, balanced with a good amount of humor, the Bio Inc.: Redemption experience will take you on one heck of a thrill ride.

BOOSTER AND REWARDS

Each win rewards you with XP points. Spend your hard-earned XP points wisely to place boosters that will help you solve cases at a higher difficulty and become a Bio Inc. master!

My first play-through was very enjoyable.. only thus far having played the dark side.. the bad doctor side.

My second play-through, I couldn't get past the loading symbol icon on the main window, right when the first thump of audio starts.. resulting in a silent crash. After trying both experimental beta versions, as suggested in community post by the dev, I was still crashing. So, common sense to me.. since I remember how Plague Inc was announced that third parties were interested in play data of player base.. I figured.. it's either a data mining issue or a content verification issue.. So, I remade firewall rules like I had the first play-through.. FIXED. This game won't load without an internet connection.. but that is not stated in the system requirements on steam store page..

Also, the developers could have made a notification for this instead of letting it silently fail.. (Kinda) Similar to Plague Inc, this game has lots of things to look at! (Sandbox, Playing as a Doctor, It's Fun and even Bio Inc Redemption has it's moments where you'll rage your behind off!).

- Clean and concise, fits well in the game.
- A bit clunky around some bits.
- Serves it's function.

[Gameplay]

- Requires grinding for new missions.
- Easy to learn, difficult to master.
- Fun and challenging.

[Story]

- No story.

[Sound]

- Sound effects get rather annoying.
- Fantastic and tense music.

[Replayability]

- There's multiplayer, but it's abandoned.
- Different difficulty settings.
- Custom scenarios mode.
- No linear way to play.. This game taught me a lot about treatments and diseases. This game is a great way to learn about different infections, conditions and diseases because it is fun. The only problem I have is that I can never connect to any multiplayer servers.. An excellent game. Easy-to-learn, hard-to-master, very enjoyable. Playing as doctor trying to save a patient is incredibly intense, I was so immersed that at one point I almost started screaming at the nurse to hurry up with the Brain PET Scan . Highly recommend.. Bio Inc. is a fun fact filled adventure of either saving or ending life. The stages are challenging enough that it keeps your interest and with many different ways to kill a person , it remains fresh for multiple replays . I do wish that their was some type of campaign mode that extended beyond just , do a task and gets some bonus in an area.
